Black Panthers - Newark, New Jersey

Our information is that the Black Panthers commenced a Newark operation on or about June 21, 1968 when a Newark resident, [redacted]

[redacted] met, in New York City with [redacted] of the Oakland Panthers, and was authorized by [redacted] to act as the Newark organizer. It has not been possible to determine how the meeting was set up between [redacted] and [redacted] but [redacted] claims that [redacted] was impressed with his knowledge of Marxist ideology and his ability to quote from the sayings of Mao Tsi Tung. [redacted] has been known to our source of information for fifteen to twenty years, during which time he has associated with known communists such as [redacted] and [redacted] his political activities are said to have been in the area of organizing Negroes in the Waterfront Unions.

[redacted] has appointed [redacted] as his "second in command" and given him the Panther rank of "Lieutenant." [redacted] is also to have responsibility for the educational training of BP members. Training of members in karate will be given by [redacted] of the Hakim Karate School* on Springfield Avenue. Two other "ranking" officers of the Newark BP's are identified as [redacted] (probably the [redacted] B.I.C.C. co-ordinator) who it is believed lives on Elizabeth Avenue and [redacted]

[redacted] During the past month, 72 men have made verbal commitments as to their wish to join the BP's; 14 of these have made payment of their $3.00 monthly dues. Ten members, to-date, purchased for $19.00 their uniform--a Black Beret, Turtleneck and Pants with insignia of rank costing an additional $4.00.

Regular weekly meetings have been held each Friday evening in the home of [redacted] discussions have centered around the Ten Points of the BPP, the preparation of a news release for the BP tabloid, the collection and sale of this newspaper and other BP literature, the selection of a store front (probable location Schuler and Hunterdon), and the nature of the confrontation between the BP's and the Newark Police Department. On July 18 at 8 pm, eight of the uniformed members of the BP walked Springfield Avenue from Jones Street to 10th Street receiving a warm welcome from the residents, especially the adolescent women.

Membership records are maintained by [redacted] each member being required to complete a three page application/membership form, a copy of which is held on our office file.

On June 30, 1968 a meeting was held between [redacted] and BP [redacted] [redacted] formerly of Oakland, California and now residing at [redacted] Other meetings, collection of literature and delivery of BP newspapers have been held and made to 1008 Van Nustrand Avenue, Brooklyn and 1808 A, Fulton Street, Brooklyn. A meeting planned for "The Red Barn", 81st Street and Columbus Avenue was cancelled. Attendance at these meetings has been confined to [redacted] [redacted] of Hunterdon Terrace, Newark. At these meetings [redacted] has had confidential discussions with unknown people.

New Breakaway Black Caucus of older militant groups to convene in NYC

A move to regionalism

by Louise Tallmer

The Free Press has learned that a "Black Caucus" aimed at forming a new militant black organization will be held in New York this weekend (July 19-21). Among the top militant figures expected to appear are LeRoi Jones, Maulana Karenga, Herman Ferguson, Bobbie Seale, Max Stamford, Sol Herbert, Robert Carson and Lincoln Lynch.

The location of the Caucus has not been disclosed. Preliminary talks on the formation of the new group evolved as a result of the dissatisfaction of local CORE groups with the national organization. Prime movers in these talks include Lincoln Lynch, of the Urban Coalition, Robert Carson of Brooklyn CORE and Sol Herbert of Bronx CORE. Although the break from the parent organization has not been made official, at least 150 separate groups have participated in the talks.

Groups such as the Bronx, Brooklyn, Suffolk County, Philadelphia and Kansas City CORE chapters as well as other local chapters who have withdrawn from the national organization, had their charters revoked, or simply been inactive for the past year, have been discussing the direction the breakaway will take. In each case, leaders claim the backing of 100 per cent of their membership.

"Years ago we could say that (white) people didn't know. They didn't understand what the problem was. But now they know and the mood is that nobody gives a damn." This is what Sol Herbert, chairman of the Bronx CORE chapter, says is the prevailing feeling among the groups, and which has sparked the more militant attitudes.

Phil Hutchings, leader of a breakaway group in SNCC, has also been in touch with the group. (When I attempted to interview Mr. Hutchings, I was told by the SNCC office that their officials granted interviews only upon receipt of an "honorarium.")

Some attempts are still being made to work within the parent organization, the feeling however, is "90% certain" that a new group will be formed. Talks with Messrs. Carson, Lynch and Herbert revealed that the new group is envisioned as a loosely knit coalition of local organizations which will work for immediate and practical gains within their communities. Mr. Carson said: "We are the blackest of the CORE chapters. We're committed, that's why. The others have been programmed. We can no longer lie to our children. We can't talk them into thinking they can become black capitalists. We won't make any deals. We are committed to the total annihilation of the system within the black community."

Corporation. Furthermore, the head of the Community Corporation, Clare Staff, is white, and she isn't a neighborhood resident. The city's tactics backfired, however, ironically because the Community Corporation was too conscientious. Deciding that the Corporation's primary responsibility was to the neighborhood and not to City Hall, Clare Staff threw her support behind the neighborhood militants.

Lynch spoke of the desire to see Harlem and Bed-Stuyvesant as self-governing cities: "Some people think that's funny, but I see DeGaulle trying to get it for Quebec, and that's what happened in Israel."

When asked why they wanted to work for these goals outside the framework of existing organizations, particularly the Black Panthers, dissident leaders said they felt that essentially the available groups worked in political areas, while they want to address themselves to the immediate needs of their people. They see the new organization as a step towards regionalism. "Even in a revolution, people need to eat, and go to school."

Although the black militants had nothing but scorn for the older white liberal "fat cats," they acknowledged that the young student revolutionaries in New York and other cities here and in Europe, might be aiming at similar goals in destroying the establishment. But, said Lincoln Lynch, "there is a significant difference. I see them as allies. When they fight we fight with them, but when they rest, we can't rest."

On Saturday, July 20, information was received at 11:50 a.m. that the Newark BP's who had uniforms were being alerted immediately to join with the New York BP's on a project. Subsequently, at 3 p.m. it was learnt that the project had been cancelled. However, as the Newark unit was by this time "uniformed" a visit was made to 500 Fifth Avenue where a meeting was held between [redacted] BP "Minister of Foreign Affairs", [redacted] of Newark, and a [redacted] who is the National Captain of BP's. Plans were discussed for holding a rally at 9-11 Holland Street, Newark on Tuesday, July 23 at 6 p.m. and for a joint press conference with S.N.C.C. at the United Nations on Monday, July 22 at 10 a.m.

Attached to these notes and identified as "A" is the first draft of the flyer setting up the Newark Rally, the paper identified as "B" is the second draft, and the paper identified as "C" is the flyer which will be distributed on July 22 and 23 by Newark Black Panthers. The document "D" was obtained at the meeting with Foreman in New York City.

On Sunday, July 21st information was received at 2 p.m. from a secondary source that a Black Unity Rally was to be held at the Saratoga Avenue School, Brooklyn at 3 p.m. and, at which the speakers would be [redacted]

[redacted] and [redacted] Arrangements were made for attendance at this meeting which did not commence until 5 p.m., our source who attended this event estimated an attendance of about 100. Most of the named speakers did not attend, actual speakers being [redacted] and an unidentified representative of U.S. Los Angeles in place of [redacted] A copy of notes made at this meeting is attached marked "E".

in

PHILADELPHIA
AUG. 29 - SEPT. 1

CALLING ALL BLACK PEOPLE....CALLING ALL BLACK PEOPLE.....

The third annual Black Power Conference is slated for August 29 to September 1 in Philadelphia's Black Community through the invitation of the Black Clergy and supported by a wide span of Black leadership, among whom are Max Stanford, Sonny Carson, Ron Karenga, Leroy Jones, Walter Palmer, and the Black Panthers.

This gathering is expected to be as historical as this year's March 29, 30th Detroit Conference at which time the Republic of New Africa was born.

The conference theme is: "Black Self-Determination and Black Unity through Direct Action."

Coordinator Nathan Wright and his staff ask that a broad segment of Black people converge on Philadelphia from the West Coast to the Eastern Seaboard, from pockets of Blacks in Canada to the Southern Black Belt of the U.S.A. The purpose? To establish a Black United Front!

Unlike many Black peoples' conferences, this one will not be underwritten by white foundation money, white grants, white corporations, or white benefactors. This meaningful undertaking will be initiated, engineered, and financially supported by Black people from all walks of life to emphasize Direct Action by Black Unity and Self-Determination. The hope is that the interest and concern of Black Businessmen, Black professionals, Black working-class, Black parents, young Black activists, Black students, Black athletes, Black artists, and Black clergy will be motivated to contribute that a fund can be activated soon as possible to defray organizational costs. Donations may be mailed to:

The Black unemployed and Black welfare people are especially welcomed to the conference for they can contribute greatly in new ideas from their perspective. Churches and clubs may be helpful in taking special collections that transportation may be available to all who wish to attend. Motor pools and chartered busses are suggested to cut down expenses.

Black self-determination and Black Unity through direct action is an umbrella large enough under which ALL BLACK PEOPLE can join...that one day, as Dr. Nathan Wright and Black Power proponents visualize—"a Black Nation WILL BE forged in thought, experience, and commitment."

As the Bureau is aware and for information of other offices receiving the enclosure, [redacted] of National Goals, Inc., (NGI), Hallmark House, 10 Hill St., Newark, NJ. [redacted] has described this firm, NGI, of which he is owner and founder as a non-profit management consultant firm primarily retained by police departments, Federal Agencies, and other governmental bodies.

[redacted] has been the subject of considerable unfavorable publicity in the past, including his involvement in early 1964, in the estate of GRACE METALIOUS, the deceased author of the novel, "Peyton Place". More recently in June, 1968, a plan he proposed brought fire from varied sources when he proposed utilization of Government funds to make militant leaders of white and Negro organizations paid directors of a 300-man community peace patrol in Newark, NJ.

It was opinion of agents whom he has contacted that [redacted] appears to be a "name dropper" and one who would exaggerate to make a point. Accordingly, the Bureau has instructed that NK deal with [redacted] at "arms length" giving him no instruction, but accepting any information he may offer. Bureau instructed also that NK should not initiate any future contacts with [redacted].

REPORT ON THE NATIONAL CONVENTION OF THE STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

JUNE 9 THROUGH JUNE 15, 1968, EAST LANSING, MICHIGAN

INTRODUCTION

During the period June 9 to June 15, 1968, the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) held their annual national convention at Michigan State University, East Lansing, Michigan. Estimates of attendance range from 350 to 800 delegates, with the probable realistic figure being an attendance of 650.

The publication "New Left Notes" (SDS) of May 13, 1968 described the orientation of the convention as:

"An attempt to devote as much time as possible to workshop discussion of the organizing needs of the Movement, with a minimum of time wasted on fruitless posturing over irrelevant political questions (the wording of resolutions expressing endearment for Che, whether we think Albania is socialist or democratic, et cetera). For those planning to do organizing work this summer who have not had the chance to attend any preparatory conferences, we hope to partially fill a need. Workshop time will also be devoted to the "state of the Movement" at all levels. We have planned the Convention as early as feasible in the summer, to minimize interference with summer work."

"The week consists of two basic parts: 1) workshops and the Convention, and 2) the National Council meeting. As the agenda now stands, there will be only one full day of plenary for the Convention. The Constitution explicitly defines the different roles which the National Council and National Convention are to play. In the past, the Convention has become needlessly embroiled in what is properly Council business. The Steering Committee will be responsible for determining which resolutions will be taken up by which body. The Steering Committee will be elected out of regional caucuses on the first day, each region sending one person to sit on the Committee. The Steering Committee will be responsible for overseeing the technical operation of the meetings (agendas, credentials, et cetera)."

BACKGROUND+

SDS, according to J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, is infiltrated with members of the Communist Party.

In a report issued on July 18, 1968, Mr. Hoover stated "SDS is the core of a new left subversive force comparable to the Communist Party in its concept of violence as an instrument to destroy the existing social order". In his testimony before a Congressional Committee in 1967, Director Hoover indicated that U.S. Communist Party leader Gus Hall has described SDS as part of the "responsible left" which "the party has going for it".*

In a Report by the House Committee on Un-American Activities, (House Report No. 1351) "Guerrilla Warfare Advocates in the United States" of May 1968, SDS is reported as giving open support to guerrilla warfare in the United States. House Report No. 1351 states, "SDS is generally recognized as the leading 'new left' student organization, is openly radical and leftist and quotes a New York Times report of July 3, 1967 that 'delegates to the SDS (1967) conventions talked freely about 'guerrilla warfare', 'counter insurgency techniques' and 'guerrilla mentality'."

In a book entitled "Rebellion in Newark", it's author, former SDS president, Thomas Hayden wrote,

"The role of organized violence is now being carefully considered. During a riot, for instance, a conscious guerrilla can participate in pulling police away from the path of people engaged in attacking stores. He can create disorder in new areas the police think are secure. He can carry the torch, if not all the people, to white neighborhoods and downtown business districts.

"If necessary, he can successfully shoot to kill.

"The guerrilla can employ violence effectively during times of apparent peace, too. He can attack in the suburbs or slums, with paint or bullets, symbols of racial oppression.

"He can get away with it. If he can force the oppressive power to be passive and defensive at the point where it is administered -- by the case worker, the landlord, the store owner or policeman, he can build people's confidence in their ability to demand change.

"Persistent, accurately aimed attacks, which need not be on human life -- be effective, might disrupt the administration, -- the ghetto to a crisis point where a new system would be to be considered.

*As reported in the Lansing State Journal of 6/13/68.

"These tactics of disorder will be defined by the authorities as criminal anarchy but it may be that disruption will create possibilities of meaningful change. This depends on whether the leaders of ghetto struggles can be more successful in building strong organization than they have been so far.

"Violence can contribute to shattering the status quo but only politics and organization can transform it."

During recent months SDS has gained notoriety for their violent activities and demonstrations against U.S. policy in Vietnam, the Selective Service System, Campus Recruiting by corporations involved in Federal contracts, and other policies of the administration -- both local and national. It will also be remembered that SDS was responsible for the Columbia "take-over" and has participated in many urban disturbances in the last twelve months. SDS has during the past year continued to use every opportunity to foment discord among the youth of the country.

MEMBERSHIP AND ATTENDANCE AT CONVENTION

A weekly publication of SDS, "New Left Notes", in its issue dated June 26, 1967 claimed a recorded membership of 6,371 with a total of nearly 250 chapters, mostly on college campuses; during the 1968 conference reference was made to "300 chapters" suggesting an increase in numbers. However, on January 1, 1967, only 875 members had paid dues, an indication of a much smaller group. An evaluation of membership can be made from the attendance at the 1968 Convention. Taking the most optimistic conference attendance figure of 800, and the fact established by SDS that each delegate could represent 5 members, the national membership would then be about 4,000 -- a more realistic membership figure. Those attending the Convention must be considered the hard core of the movement.

While most chapters are organized on a college campus, it appears that there is a trend for SDS to grow beyond this base and organize groups in high schools and in various urban locations. An example of a non-campus group within SDS is the Lower East Side chapter, known officially as "Up Against the Wall Motherfucker" chapter. This chapter works closely with the East Side Service Organization (ESSO) in New York of 341 East 10th Street (212-533-5930). It is this group (ESSO) that produces most of the anti-administration and "hate-cop" pamphlets in New York's East Side and is closely associated with many subversive groups in New York City, such as Progressive Labor, Black Panthers, YIP, etc. The "Up Against the Wall" group are mostly anarchists, and are led by Ben Morca of Black Mask, they organized a contingent to the 1968 convention and carried three of four black flags of anarchy into each plenary session.

The personal style of the "Up Against the Wall" chapter contrasted sharply with the staid, closely-shorn Progressive Labor (PL) delegates. They frequently interrupted debate and shouted down speakers. One of them wore a black cowboy hat and dark glasses, in addition to the beard and dark clothes affected by most of them. Another of them spent most of the convention wearing swimming trunks and an American Indian headband, he has been identified as Melvin Margulis of New York City.

Individual political beliefs represented within SDS ranges from the left liberal students with a vague commitment to activism to hard-line leftists with a thorough knowledge of Marxism and a dedication to revolutionary activities.

Since the convention was dominated by hard-liners, the debate reflected the ideological divisions among the most radical, and vocal, factions.

Although the factions were, with one exception, coalitions that would change with each new issue, three major contingents were identifiable at the 1968 Conference. The exception was the Progressive Labor Party and its allies. Progressive Labor (PL) is a Peking-oriented, disciplined party that has a clear ideological "line". It is heavily represented within SDS because the party sees SDS as a recruiting ground for new members. At the convention, PL delegates continually pushed the idea that students should ally with the traditional working class in a common "struggle" against the ruling class. They also opposed all attempts to centralize SDS. It is noted that PL strength in SDS is limited, being restricted to a dozen or so campuses on the East and West Coasts, but PL delegates always turn out in numbers for national meetings, and at Michigan State University had a block of almost the delegates whom it controlled in closed sessions, with many of these delegates controlling five votes each and voting with a green and gold card in place of the yellow card used by individual delegates and observers.

This group, though it was identified with the movement to centralize SDS, it also backed a variety of other proposals, and to a large extent with a variety of concrete proposals and actions in the working class.

The third major group present were the anarchists and nihilists, informally and loosely led by the "Up Against the Wall" chapter. They were among the vocal opponents of PL, but with PL opposed centralizing SDS.

These two factions identify themselves through the classical definitions of anarchist and nihilist. In view of this it seems pertinent to refer to Webster for clarification of the terms.

An anarchist is defined as one who violently rebels against any existing, established order or ruling power. The term nihilism comes from the program of a 19th century Russian party advocating revolutionary reform and using terrorism and assassination. Usage of the term today denotes a viewpoint that traditional values and beliefs are unfounded and that existence is senseless and useless. Destruction of such a system is desirable for its own sake independent of any constructive program or possibility.

The deep hostility between Progressive Laborites and others remained beneath the surface until the Tuesday of the Conference, when one of the national officers said that "external forces" - meaning PL - had been playing an obstructive role. After that, the parties became factions, informed every second of business. The conflict came to a head Friday, just before the elections, after an interrupted speech by one of PL's opponents. He said changes favored by a majority of the SDS had been defeated because "there isn't a two-thirds SDS majority in the body, unless by some stretch of the imagination you consider PL as part of SDS." This remark touched off loud applause and a chant of "PL out!"

by about a third of the delegates. After the chant died out, an inconclusive two-hour debate followed on the role of PL in SDS.

Another example of the disruption caused by PL was the events which followed the turning down of the proposals for City Organizing and Revolutionary Organization. One of the authors of the proposal, Tom Bell, a former SDS, regional traveler, and now a Teamster, took the microphone and bitterly attacked PL. He charged that the proposal would have passed had not PL voted as a solid block against it.

A long and bitter debate followed in which charges flew back and forth. The SDS people accused PL of a variety of things, from seeking to manipulate SDS, to demoralizing local chapters, to trying to impose its own ideology on SDS, and of stifling honest debate.

PL responded by accusing some SDSers (particularly the UAWMF) of "terrorism". They also claimed they were being "red-baited". (PL considers itself a revolutionary Communist organization. It is generally considered Old Left.) There were some SDS people who took a "neutral" position between PL and the SDS people who had formed a new left caucus.

However, in the end, despite the fears of many SDSers, PL was not able to muster enough votes to elect either a national officer or a single member of the eleven man National Interim Committee.

CREDENTIALS AND SECURITY

The May 13 issue of New Left Notes set out the credentials required for delegates as:-

"Two categories of credentials are needed -- National Council and National Convention.

Convention Delegates:-

Chapters have one convention delegate per five national members (with five votes per delegates on the floor of the convention). Also, individual members who come to the convention have one vote on the floor of the convention. Names of chapter delegates should be sent to the national office as soon as possible, along with the names of the five National Members for each delegate named (for credential purposes).

National Council Delegates:-

Chapters have one delegate to the National Council per twenty-five National Members or fraction thereof."

The 1968 SDS Conference sought to impose strict security on their activities, warning delegates of the "efficient" campus police at Michigan State University and of the proximity of the State Police Headquarters, with the attendant risk of "infiltration". SDS using the complaint of "press lies" excluded reporters from many sessions of the conference and provided very few journalists with credentials. A nine-point memo "requesting reporters to use no cameras or tape recorders and to make no direct or indirect quotes attributed to any individual were given to all members of the press."

Reporters also had to identify themselves at the opening of workshop sessions in order that participants could vote on whether or not the newsmen could stay.

ELECTIONS

What may have been most significant about the elections held on Friday, June 14 was that candidates for two of the three top offices ran unopposed and in typical SDS style were previously relatively unknown to either the delegates or the press. Bernadine Dohrn (University of Chicago 1963) a graduate of the University of Chicago law school in 1967 and an organizer of the National Lawyers Guild who considers herself a "revolutionary communist", was unopposed for inter-organizational secretary; Michael Klonsky, 25, a 1967 graduate of San Fernando State College, now an organizer in Los Angeles and a teaching assistant to Herbert Marcuse at the University of California's San Diego campus, was unopposed for national secretary. Only the new educational secretary, Fred Gordon, a graduate of Harvard University in 1966 won over another candidate. Gordon, a 24-year-old is now a graduate student at the University of California's San Diego campus (where he has been studying under Herbert Marcuse), had the support of PL because he opposed the National Office candidate (Gordon is not affiliated with PL). He won by a single vote.

Somebody accused Klonsky of being a Stalinist. Klonsky replied, "having been a communist only a few months, I have difficulty in understanding what you mean by that."

Eight members of the National Interim Committee (NIC) were elected, after two ballots, those indicated * being elected on the first ballot:

- Charles C. Marshall - Niagara Region, New York
- Jeff C. Jones - New York
- *Michael James - Chicago
- Eric M. Mann - New England
- Roy Barte Haile - Texas and/or Oklahoma
- *Michael L. Spiegel - Washington
- Morgan C. Spector - San Francisco
- *Carl P. Oglesby - Antioch, Ohio

The following alternates were also reported as elected:

- Jared Israel - New England
- Mark Rudd - Columbia
- Bruce Clarke - Iowa

It is reported that those elected represent a layer in SDS most factionally opposed to PL.

It is significant to note that on Monday, June 10, the various chapters attending the Conference gathered to elect a steering committee, to decide upon the procedural and technical details for the entire week. Elected to this committee were:-

- Michael Klonsky of Los Angeles
- James O'Brien
- Marc Lieberman of Harvard SDS
- Gordon Fells
- Mike Fricc of Michigan State University
- Susan Jankowski
- Sandy Smith
- Mike Linberg

It will be seen that, with the exception of Klonsky none of this group were elected to the NIC.

WORKSHOPS

An idea of what SDS people are thinking about, and where they want to organize, is best illustrated by some of the specific area workshops that were held in the three days before the plenary sessions began.

There were workshops on High School Organizing, Local Anti-Draft Organizing, Education, including Community Control of the Schools, Forming Labor Committees, City-wide Coordinated Organizing Projects, Women's Liberation Science and Technology, Teaching Assistants Organizing, G.I. Organizing, Movement Media, The Mass Strike, Working Class Organizing, Racism, Vocations for Radicals, including organizing among teachers, lawyers, etc., Art and Politics, including Guerrilla Theater, Small Liberal Elite Colleges, Self-Defense and Internal Security, Sabotage and Explosives, International New Left, Workshop for People Who Are New to SDS and/or People Who Are Interested in Forming Chapters at Backward, Conservative Campuses, Independent Political Parties, including the Peace and Freedom Movement, The Knowledge Industry, and Organizing Around the Presidential Campaign.

There were also workshops or panels on "The Big Trends: Where Is America Going", "Racism, and White response to Black Rebellion," and a panel on the Columbia experience.

There is a great diversity of interest represented there, but the overriding view seemed to be that the end result of the work in these different areas would be revolutionary change.

SDS is not, at this point, about to peddle the idea that Revolution is around the corner, as the Old Leftists in the thirties did, but it does see it in the future, and has begun to organize for it.

As one panel speaker Hamish Sinclair said: "We've got to get our shit together, so we can all hit the fan at the same time." He was wildly applauded.

Or, as a brilliant elder SDS statesman noted: "The (American) hegemony is breaking up. Things cannot go back to the way they were. The trauma is real, the change universal."

At the Workshop on Internal Security and Self Defense the "Up Against the Wall M-F," N.Y. Chapter tabled the following proposal:

"We must acknowledge the escalation of struggle both offensively and defensively and become aware of the necessity to protect ourselves. If SDS is to survive organizationally it must at some time deal with this structurally (defense committees.) At this time all members must become aware of tactics which might in the future save them from getting busted (over the head, and/or into jail.) We propose a committee to prepare a pamphlet dealing with the following on local, regional and national levels: police identification; laws relating to SDS functions (gun and riot laws); needs for basic self defense (karate); tapping of available information (research, right wing); counter police tactics (demonstrations, infiltration); first aid; utilization of peripheral forces (funds, underground networks.) All members/chapters wanting to supply information for the pamphlet should send the material to a central editing body. Up Against the Wall M-F, N.Y. chapter, humbly offers to serve the function of assimilating the stuff."

Another workshop of great interest was on "Sabotage and Explosives", it has been impossible to determine who led this workshop but information is that the following acts of sabotage were discussed:-

- Breaking of keys in keyholes
- Putting combustibles in the mail
- Bird bombs, to flush down toilets
- Putting special glue on door knobs
- Radio jamming equipment
- Ultra-sonic instruments to jam radio
- Thermal grenades capable of burning metal
- Tri-pods (althree pronged instrument thrown in front of police cars that always lands with one prong up.)

Many of these acts of sabotage were discussed in relation to attacks upon Selective Service and Recruiting Centers. Seventeen people attended this workshop, but it was not possible to determine their names or the name of the moderator.

DIARY

During Sunday, June 9, 1968, conference delegates and observers were arriving to register and receive housing and general information in the Main Concourse of the Student Union. It is noted that strict security was maintained over registration and housing records. At 7:25 p.m. in the Student Union Ballroom a panel discussion was held on the Columbia Student Strike, followed by a report from the Inter-Organizational Secretary.

The Columbia panel consisted of Mike Price from Michigan State University - Mike Spiegel, Carl Davidson and Dave Gilbert believed to Another source, on this date, identified the following persons as being present:

Mike Robinson of Newsreel
Edward H. Clarke of New Orleans, Louisiana
Dana Ostrow
Arthur Carpenter, University of Austin
Janet Foley, Fordham
Roger Lippman, Reed College
Sandy Horwitz, Berkeley
Carol Tanner, Michigan State University
Mimi Rosenthal, Brandeis University
Hamish Sinclair

The Monday evening session took the form of a panel on summer work with Mark Leiberman moderating. Panel members were Les Coleman, SDS National Office, Steve Kahn, John Furst, Wisconsin, Steve Browdenbush, Boston and Mike James of the National Community Union. When this panel commenced there were some 500 delegates and observers present, but by 10 p.m. when the session concluded only about 125 people remained. During the course of this session there was discussion and questions on the involvement of SDS members in industry, commerce, education, etc., and on techniques and methods to be used in organizing.

Mike James, NCU described a new newspaper, ASR -- Activist Social Research -- which is a new medium to report on various techniques of propaganda. He stated that "ASR will arm SDS organizers with propaganda for agitation".

On Tuesday, June 11, 1968, a workshop was held centered around the techniques for organizing different constituencies. Dell Lugo, a Mexican-American from California State, Los Angeles spoke on organizing in High Schools, while others, unidentified discussed various methods of organizing. A delegate spoke of his role as a "revolutionary conflict organizer, involving high school students, a worker-student alliance and middle-class people." It was noted that the old rote Marxist phrases of communist organizers such as, "anti-capitalism", "anti-imperialism" were much in use at this workshop, and indeed at the conference in general.

During an afternoon session, Dave Gilbert spoke, also Hamish Sinclair, and Jeff Gordon of PLP. The latter saying, "There's no difference between the McCarthey's; Kennedys, Johnsons, and Goldwaters. They work together, and one tries to buy you off and the other tries to cut you down". He continued "Since the integration movement, things are growing worse, not better, for Negroes. All over real wages are going down. We have to go out and work with people. As Mao Tse-tung says, "turn the people." The basis of the national liberation front strength in South Vietnam is that their cadres are in every village. And the same way here we have to built a political base on anti-imperialist politics. What we have learned from Columbia and San Francisco State is that sharp struggles can win over people and we don't care whether we win or lose because you just want to win people: that's our task at this historical point.

"In France when the students came to the factory gate and said revolt, they had not been doing years of organizational work, and they did not have the workers support to go home and seize state power. And that is the goal - seizing state power, destroying capitalism and crushing imperialism."

Other speakers at this session were William Higgs of Washington, Steve Hallowell, Robert Pardun and Carl Oglesby.

On Tuesday the following persons were identified:-

Mark Rudd, Columbia
Neil Buckley
Tim Couton
Gregory Calvert
Steve Komm, Columbia
Eric Mann, New England
Dave Gilbert, Michigan State University
David Freedman, Michigan State University

In the afternoon at 2:30 p.m. another panel was held at which the speakers were:-

Eric Mann, New England SDS, Chairman
(Newark Community Project)
Jeff Gordon, New York Progressive Labor Party

David Gilbert, Columbia SDS
Hamish Sinclair
Carl Oglesby, Antioch College
David Barnes, University of Delaware
Robert Pardun, SDS Chicago
Peter Signorelli, Eastern Michigan University, Ann Arbor

Also identified on this date were:-

Toddy Calderone, Michigan State University
Diane Lansky
Dan Fiegin, Columbia
Jim Bever, Michigan State University
Robert Dietz, Spartacist League

The major panel on June 11 was entitled, 'The Big Trends, Where Is America Going?' Among the subject discussed were: American Economy Affecting Europe - Labor Movement and SDS - Anarchist Principles - and, affiliate movement (PL) trying to take over SDS.

It was on this date, June 11, that Robert Dietz or Deitz of 5020 S. Cornell, Chicago (AWOL from the U.S. Army) who claimed to represent the Spartacist League, gained publicity in East Lansing by the display of the Spartacist Flag which is made up of a picture of Lenin, a red hammer and sickle, the words Spartacist League in red, a clenched fist and a picture of Trotsky. Deitz claims to have visited Russia and is able to write some Russian words. It is understood that he is now in military custody.

Wednesday, June 12, 1968, saw the following program being implemented:-

- 10-1: Workshops on the direction of the movement (SDS specifically) nationally (structure, proposals, national programs, etc.)
- 2-3:30: "Services" panel (reports and information from different groups around the movement which can be of help to local chapters)
- 4-7:30: Workshops continue of national direction
Workshops on specific topics
Resolutions workshops
- 9-11: Panel on Racism and White Response to Black Rebellions

Information was also obtained on this date that the following organizations were represented at the Conference; indicated thus *; fraternal relations were claimed with others listed.

Socialist Workers Party *
Young Socialist Alliance *
Progressive Labor Party *
Peace and Freedom Party *
Black Panther Party *

An additional person of interest who was finally identified on this date was one Melvin Margulis of Columbia University who has TX # RI 97530 or the RAT office in New York 473-5773 or the SDS office in New York, 50 E. 11th Street, TX # 212 674 8310.

During Wednesday afternoon a workshop on "Movement Media" took place at which the moderator was Eric Lerner. Other speakers were Judy Bernstein of Toronto, Canada and representatives of News Reel, Liberation News Service and WBAI radio.

On Thursday, the National Convention Plenary was held and the elections for NIC and National Officers commenced. The afternoon session was disrupted by a group of women delegates members of the Radical Women's Caucus demonstrating for a more significant role for women in SDS. The following quotation is from a news item in "The Guardian" of June 22, 1968 by Susan Sutheim, one of the dissident SDS females:-

"At 2 p.m. Thursday, June 13, the bullshit on the plenary session floor of the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) national convention was, as usual, flying thick and fast, when seven women carrying large placards entered the back of the hall and made their way to the speaker's platform.

The signs identified the group as Karl Theory, Max Praxis, Stu W. Alliance and Ben Bullshit, some of the leading theoreticians and allegedly "elitist" leadership of SDS, followed by three people who just couldn't keep up with them -- Girlfriend, Chick and Joe Chapter.

As they reached the stage, the lights went out and dozens of women scattered around the room took up the eerie, high pitched wail of the Algerian women (learned from the film "The Battle of Algiers"). As the cry died down, three women seized the floor microphones and began to read antiphonally, trying to communicate to the convention delegates their feelings about elitism, male chauvinism, SDS rhetoric and the arrogance of many movement people."

The following additional persons were identified, by a secondary source, as working on the resolution for the mass media:

John Hagg - Peace and Freedom Party

Friday and Saturday, June 14 and 15 were confined to the National Council Plenary.

On Saturday, June 15, 1968 a news conference was held and the following statement issued -- SDS officers said:

"That little structural change had been made in the organization. They said that much of the discussion had "centered on ways of extending the movement to new constituencies -- to uncommitted students and high school students, and to workers, hippies, the American poor, college trained professionals and American GI's".

"The organization works from "a basic anticapitalist analysis." One speaker told the convention, "The essence of the group's differences with standard Communist belief is its view that the old working class revolution no longer applies to this wealthy nation, where many workers have become middle class. There is a new working class, the new left argues, among the students, professionals and others whose general discontent over the Vietnam war, the draft, and the racial crisis is a rallying point."

Most people departed, however, there was a meeting of the new National Officers that adjourned at 7:45 p.m. Those observed leaving were as follows:

MEMORANDUM FOR FILE

A13 148 514

April 26, 1968

Re: John Herbert REES

On April 16, 1968 Detective Joseph Trainor of the New Jersey State Police personally requested information concerning the SUBJECT of this file. The file was obtained and the contents thereof were relayed to Trainor. Trainor indicated that the State Police was conducting an investigation of the SUBJECT and of the organization which he presently heads. This organization is known as National Goals Inc. and has its headquarters in the Hallmark Apartments in Newark.

Trainor stated that the organization concerns itself with anti-riot training of police departments and some government agencies like OEO for example, on a contract basis. He said that certain individuals who are connected with Rees have criminal records and leave much to be desired in terms of being desirable businessmen.

Trainor stated that Rees is very close to the Commissioner of Police, Dominick Spina, and to Mayor Addonizio of Newark and does, in fact, have free access to their office, sits in on their council meetings and can obtain information which many other people in official capacities cannot get.

In addition to the interest of the State Police the local office of the FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION has an interest in the SUBJECT, his activities and his organization plus the fact that they are curious about the entree into City Hall and city activities. Both agencies are concerned with Rees because of his accomplices and because they are not sure of the true aims and purpose of his organization. Col. David Kelly, Director New Jersey State Police Department, is himself vitally interested. In the course of conversation Trainor mentioned the name HERB ROMERSTEIN whom the writer has known for years. Romerstein is a former member of the Communist Party and was an informant for the New York District of this Service and the New York State Police for many years.

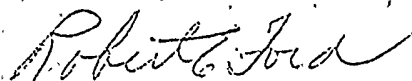

At the request of Detective Trainor the writer telephonically contacted Romerstein who came to the office voluntarily. Romerstein indicated that he is still employed by the House Committee on Un-American Activities and is in fact investigating the Newark riots of July last, as a preliminary step to the HCUA hearings which are to be held in Newark concerning Newark in the very near future. Romerstein indicated that he knows Rees very well and that Rees, a former Royal Air Force man who claims to have had ten years of service with the RAF and who further claims to have been a bodyguard to a member of the British Royal Family, is a former British Intelligence Officer. He said that National Goals Inc. is a part of Applied Electronics in Metuchen, New Jersey, which is owned in part by David Wilentz, former Attorney General for the State of New Jersey. He said that Rees is a highly intelligent individual and he mentioned the latter connection with Grace Metalious, the author of Peyton Place, clippings about which are contained in the file. Rees is presently married or lives with a mulatto girl and her children and Romerstein was not sure about the details of a formal marriage. He stated that the girl's former husband was a notorious hoodlum in the Brooklyn area but he claimed not to know the former husband's name. The wife's first name is Marianne.

Romerstein indicated that National Goals has one man working on a full-time basis in Washington, D.C. and presently has one man assigned to the Essex County Sheriff's Office. He said that the purpose of the organization is to provide riot training and guidance to whomever contracts for such assistance. He further indicated that this is a private non-profit organization which is not, to the best of his knowledge, financed by any government organization.

Investigation into the activities of SUBJECT and of National Goals Inc. is being continued by the New Jersey State Police. It does not appear at this time that there is any basis for Service action but arrangements have been made for information to be relayed to the Service as it develops.

Rees presently resides at 10 Hill Street, Apt. 8R, Newark, New Jersey, (Hallmark Apartments).

Newark considered [ ] to be reliable only insofar as the material he furnished Newark during the period of approximately three months.

Newark disseminated information received from [ ] within the Bureau for info and corroboration. It is known that [ ] disseminates and to some extent exchanges information widely both in the public and private sectors, and that some agencies or persons in those agencies who have access to dissemination by the FBI also receive dissemination from [ ]. In regard to leads in re Atlanta airtel Newark will not contact [ ] who now operates from NY, and has not contacted Newark since National Goals, Inc., moved to that city.

A decision as to whether Atlanta continues to receive information from [ ] is being left to the discretion of Atlanta.

In regard to the material Atlanta forwarded to Newark, some of it is familiar to Newark and has been disseminated previously. Any other material will be disseminated by Newark. In the future any [ ] material received by Atlanta should be disseminated to the interested office.

National Goals Inc. Moves to New York

National Goals Inc., a consulting firm involved in several Newark controversies, has moved its headquarters to New York City.

It was learned yesterday the company has closed its apartment office at Hallmark House, 10 Hill St., and opened a new headquarters at 114 E. 28th St., Manhattan.

John Rees, acting president, and other officials could not be reached for comment on the move. It was reported Rees still lives in Newark.

National Goals last spring drew up $743,741 proposal to hire black and white militants as a "community peace patrol." The plan was rejected by the Justice Department and denounced by Gov. Hughes.

Seeking to Recover $7,597

The U.S. Department of Labor is still attempting to recover $7,597 that was paid by the city to Rees as research director of the federally financed New Careers training program. Rees resigned last spring after auditors questioned the amount of time he was spending on the job.

The Labor Department has also blacked payment of $12,100 to a training firm for which Rees is a consultant. A department spokesman said federal auditors have now authorized payment of $4,900 to the firm Training Systems International, for services that have been verified.

Officials are awaiting word on whether the company will accept a settlement at the lower sum.

Rees has insisted he and his companies met all their commitments, and he has asked for a federal grand jury hearing.

Re San Francisco letter to Newark dated 12/31/68.

Enclosed for San Francisco is a copy of an LHM dated July 18, 1968, re captioned subject. This LHM was prepared at the request of the Bureau, when [REDACTED] was still operating from Newark and no local dissemination was made by Newark per Bureau instructions.

In addition to the background data set forth in the LHM, [REDACTED] in 1964, about a year after his arrival in the U.S., gained a great deal of notoriety in the Boston area press, when GRACE METALIOUS, author of "Peyton Place", in a death-bed will, named [REDACTED] as the sole beneficiary of her estate, excluding her children. Newspaper accounts showed [REDACTED] withdrew his claims against the estate in the face of legal action on behalf of the METALIOUS children. These newspaper accounts further reflected that much of the background information [REDACTED] had furnished concerning his marital status and previous occupation was false.

During the disturbance of Thomas' graduation was his arrest in July 1951 and subsequent conviction during a racial disturbance in Jackson, Mississippi.

Thomas, who has a long association with left wing causes, was executive secretary of Sigma Hall, the University of California YMCA, from 1934 to 1942 and a lobbyist for the Friends Committee on Legislation in 1962. Both the FCL and the American Friends Service Committee are nominally Quaker organizations which have been the objects of continuing discrimination within the peace loving Society of Friends in disagreement with the left wing political positions of these two committees.

Thomas was among the leaders of a conference instigated by the East Bay Community Forum, a left Communist front working for the abolition of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, held in San Francisco, Oct. 4, 1950.

SIGNERS OF LETTER

Signers of invitational letters included, in addition to Thomas, Marshall Wand Miller, a sponsor of Communist Frank Wilkinson's National Committee to Abolish the HCUA, Mrs. Betty W. Evans, sister of Frank Wilkinson, and Carlton B. Goodlett, a delegate to a Kremlin "peace" congress two years ago and a continuing participant in Communist backed activities.

Following Thomas' arrest in Mississippi, Police Captain J. L. Ray said that Thomas and three others came with the intention of creating an incident. Their presence would have occasioned a breach of the peace. When they came into the terminal, an angry crowd of 25 moved toward them. I would say they intended violence.

The Communist press has promised a long, hot summer of agitation....

Cecil A. Thomas was jailed as a conscientious objector during World War II. This information is omitted in a lengthy statement on Thomas' background prepared by Mrs. Thomas for the Albany City Council.

Before moving to Berkeley where he directed the University of California YMCA, he had served from 1948 to 1954 as executive secretary of the YMCA at Ohio State University, according to the statement. On Sept. 18, 1949, the downtown YMCA of Columbus, Ohio, severed all connections with the campus "Y" in disagreement over the left wing activities conducted by the OSU "Y" branch.

Thomas had been instrumental in the formation of the Ohio campus of a group called Student Progressives, a Campus Committee Against Universal Military Training and a left wing political action group.

A few years after he came to Berkeley Thomas had succeeded in fostering the organization of State, the radical left wing student political party which was officially declared an "off campus" group by the University of California in 1961.

State's present status means that meetings cannot be held on campus although the group is freely permitted to sponsor on-campus Communist speakers and other events.

State led opposition to the new school had compulsory ROTC program at UC campuses and has been in the forefront of opposition to the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

among scheduled speakers for a San Francisco rally organized especially to finance Los Angeles branch of the committee, April 25, 1952.

OTHER ACTIVITIES

Other speeches and demonstrations which Thomas took part concerned equality in capital punishment and anti programs.

The Communist "People's World" April 28, 1957, named Thomas as one of the leaders in a move to get money to save an interracial living group at Kentonia Farms, American Via Ray Avenue. Students were urged in a 1956 letter to contact Thomas if they were interested in engaging in an experiment in community living in a "permeable" environment.

Thomas purchased a crate of fresh asparagus and helped ship it to the U.S. president and other world leaders in a 1958 protest against nuclear tests.

A direct action demonstration at the Las Vegas, Nev. hotel in Aug. 1957 had Thomas as a participant. Mentioned in a bulletin from the Fellowship for Reconciliation, a paraded organization.

MORE SPONSORS

Other sponsors of the Youth Committee were veteran Communist front adherents: Anton Refregier, Rudwell Kent, Rufus Guthrie, Richard Fisher, Lane Vincent Hallinan, Robert W. Kenny, Linus Pauling, Alexander Meiklejohn, Stephen M. Friedman and Wilbur H. Ferry.

Dear Mr. Flanders:

As indicated by the enclosed form letter over your signature, dated September 28, 1979, I requested, and later received, information concerning the material contained in your files relative to myself and [redacted] Cecil A. Thomas.

There are, of course, certain errors in what is contained in the information in your files. Some of them are relatively inconsequential, although careful checking could have established the fact, for example, that there were two persons with the name [redacted] at the same time--both members of the Berkeley Religious Society of Friends, and both of relatively the same age. Activities attributed to me were those of the other person, actually, but since they were somewhat similar to activities I might have undertaken, this is perhaps understandable.

More serious, however, is the statement, featured several times, that [redacted] was imprisoned as a conscientious objector. Although it is true that he was prepared to go to jail for his religious convictions, in keeping with the historic testimony of early Quakers, the fact is that he was not imprisoned for his pacifist beliefs.

This seems to me to be easy to verify, and in fact, I am herewith providing verification which I requested in 1964 when I was collecting information with the possible intention of suing the publication TOCSIN, also included in your file on [redacted]

I don't know whether anyone at the FBI is concerned with correcting records of persons no longer living, but if similar errors are made concerning those who are still living, it might be useful to call this one to someone's attention.

[redacted] and I both had great respect for those who were willing to undergo prison sentences for the sake of conscience. Sometimes he may even have regretted that he did not make this witness at that time. Nevertheless, it is a false statement, and this letter from the U.S. Department of Justice should be included in the file. Since so much has been deleted, perhaps references to [redacted] incarceration ought also to be deleted.

Sincerely yours, SEARCHED INDEXED

Dear [redacted]:

Thank you for your June 11 letter to my predecessor,
Mr. Flanders.

Unfortunately, the Privacy Act (Title 5, U.S.
Code, Section 552a) provides only for the subject of a record to request amendment or correction of that record.
Consequently, you do not have legal standing to request

Nevertheless, we are always concerned with the accuracy of our records, even as they pertain to persons no longer living. In deference to your concerns, as well as in the interest of accuracy, we are making your June 11

I hope this will be satisfactory to you.
